

Newport High School football coach goes to college

NHS Coach John Schlarman accepts position at Troy State University

Newport, KY, May 15, 2007 – The Newport Independent Schools announced today that Newport High School’s head football coach, John Schlarman, has accepted a position as the offensive line coach for Troy State University in Alabama.

During Coach Schlarman’s two-year tenure at Newport High School, he amassed an impressive record, taking the Wildcats to the playoffs each of his two years as head coach.

Commenting on Schlarman’s departure, Newport Superintendent Michael Brandt said, “Obviously we have mixed emotions on losing Coach Schlarman. Over the past two years he has done a tremendous job carrying on the great tradition of our football program. At the same time, we’re extremely proud to see John move so quickly to the next level in the coaching profession. All of us expect great things of him. John is both a great teacher and a superb coach. We wish Coach Schlarman and his family nothing but the best.”